Join Us for the Inaugural Igniting Hope Awards Reception

Thursday, June 26, 2025 | The Morrow Hotel | Washington, D.C.

To our valued friends,

We are thrilled to invite you to sponsor the inaugural Igniting Hope Awards Reception, the National Coalition for Cancer Survivorship's (NCCS) premier celebration of innovation, compassion, and progress in patient-centered cancer care.

This year, we are reimagining our long-standing Ellen L. Stovall Awards Reception to become part of our Cancer Policy and Advocacy Team (CPAT) Symposium week, so that the survivors and advocates at the heart of our work can take part in honoring those making a difference. The event is now the Igniting Hope Awards Reception, where we will continue to present the prestigious Ellen L. Stovall Awards for Innovation in Patient-Centered Cancer Care.

Since its inception, the Stovall Awards Reception has raised more than $1.2 million, directly supporting our mission to advocate for quality cancer care for all.

With your sponsorship, you help us:

- Ensure that cancer survivors and their families have access to trusted resources from diagnosis through treatment and into survivorship.
- Equip survivors and clinicians with tools to navigate an increasingly complex cancer care landscape.
- Advance policy priorities that protect cancer survivors and promote high-quality, equitable care.

Named for longtime NCCS CEO Ellen L. Stovall, who passed away in 2016 due to long-term effects of her cancer treatment, the Stovall Awards honor individuals and organizations that have significantly advanced patient-centered care and survivorship in the United States. The Igniting Hope Awards Reception carries this legacy forward—elevating voices, spotlighting champions, and sparking change.

Sponsorship opportunities and benefits are outlined in the enclosed materials. We encourage you to make your commitment early, as exclusive opportunities are limited.

If you have questions or would like to confirm your support, please contact Karen Wilson, Development Manager at kwilson@canceradvocacy.org or (301) 650-9127. You can also visit www.stovallaward.org for more information.

On behalf of the 18.1 million cancer survivors in the U.S. and the millions more who care for and support them, we thank you for your partnership—and we look forward to celebrating with you this June in Washington, D.C.

ABOUT

The Ellen L. Stovall Award

for Innovation in Patient-Centered Cancer Care

The Stovall Award is a unique opportunity for patients and survivors to recognize pioneers who are transforming the cancer care system.

The Stovall Award is given annually to two individuals or organizations – one health care professional and one patient advocate or advocacy organization – who demonstrate innovation in improving cancer care for patients in America. NCCS created the Stovall Award in honor of Ellen Stovall, our longtime CEO who passed away in 2016 due to cardiac complications from her cancer treatment.

In more than two decades of service and leadership at the National Coalition for Cancer Survivorship (NCCS), Ellen L. Stovall crusaded for the delivery of quality cancer care to all Americans. As a cancer survivor of more than four decades, Ellen sought to design her own system of patient-centered care to address the serious late and long-term effects of her cancer treatment, including the treatment of a second cancer. In pursuing her own system of care, she focused on care that emphasized strong doctor-patient communication, coordination of care and symptom management, and full consideration of the evidence supporting treatment options.

THE 2025 ELLEN L. STOVALL Honorees

HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONAL AWARD

SUSAN LEIGH, BSN, RN

Susan Leigh is a pioneering oncology nurse, four-time cancer survivor, and founding member of the National Coalition for Cancer Survivorship. A veteran of the U.S. Army Nurse Corps, she helped launch the survivorship movement and served as NCCS Board President.

Her advocacy has shaped national standards for long-term care and survivorship education. Even in retirement, she continues to mentor and inspire survivors and health professionals alike.

PATIENT ADVOCATE AWARD

DESIREE A.H. WALKER

Desirée Walker is a two-time breast cancer survivor, health educator, and patient advocate dedicated to advancing equity in cancer care. She serves as President of the Young Survival Coalition's Board and Co-Chair of the Herbert Irving Comprehensive Cancer Center's Patient and Family Advisory Council.

Through leadership roles with NCCS, SWOG, and the Society of Integrative Oncology, Desirée works to amplify patient voices and dismantle disparities. She facilitates culturally responsive support groups and trains medical professionals in compassionate communication.
